

ASPB Scholars Program

sponsored by CONVIRON®

Open to exceptional undergraduate and graduate students studying plant biology, the ASPB Conviron Scholars program delivers an experience intended to serve as a foundation for a career in plant science.

program includes:

- 1-year membership in ASPB
- Individual virtual mentoring / resume review sessions with an established plant science professional
- A hands-on virtual learning program that includes career seminars, round-table discussions, and workshops that help develop skills for success
- Private online group network for ongoing discussions and Q&A
- Opportunities for exposure to plant biologists who have pursued different career paths
- Opportunity to submit an article to the ASPB blog
- Opportunity to present a poster at the Plant Biology meeting

...and much more.

Participants will receive a certificate after successful participation and completion of the program.

Apply online
Application deadline:
December 2, 2019

Visit
aspb.org/conviron
for more info